LISTERATED GUM

From Quaint Belize To Fashionable Newport

Chicle, the basis of Listerated Gum, is the fragrant sap of a tree that grows in Southern Mexico. It takes steamer at Belize, Honduras (shown below) and goes to Newport to mix with science and pure sugar. The result is Listerated — the Quality gum. It appeals even to those who shy at other gums.

A detailed black and white illustration of a tropical coastal scene. In the foreground, a man in a white shirt and hat stands on a wooden pier, leaning over a large wooden boat filled with sacks of chicle. To his right, a large pack of Listerated Gum is prominently displayed, with the brand name clearly visible. A large '5¢' price tag is attached to the pack. In the background, a steamship is docked at a pier, and several figures are visible on the shore. Palm trees and other tropical vegetation frame the scene, creating a sense of origin and exoticism.

Alleged Check Forger Is Held

O. E. Burnett, arrested several days ago in Lynchburg on a forgery charge and also wanted here on a similar charge, has been returned to Danville and is now in the local jail pending a hearing. He is charged here with forging a check for $500 on E. G. Anderson Clothing Company. Burnett is also said to be wanted in Charlotte, N.C. The check forger seems to be a side-line with Burnett. He is an agent he claims, for a Chicago concern selling printing machines, which may be attached to roller wrapping paper standards and with each revolution the name and other matter are printed on the paper. Burnett approached the proprietor of the Anderson store and sold one of his machines. He also purchased a raincoat and other goods, presenting a check for $500, it having been signed "C. A. Woodford," which was accepted and Burnett given his change. The Anderson store left town and the Anderson concern soon learned that the paper was no good. He reported the matter to the police and circled for the man's apprehension were sent out. A message was received from the Lynchburg authorities stating that Burnett had been arrested there. Detective J. C. Lewis, accompanied by Mr. Anderson went to Lynchburg Sunday and returned with the prisoner. The officer says that Burnett has made a confession. His arrest in Lynchburg was made by Officer P. S. Tankley.

THE STOCK MARKET.

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Conflicting price movements took place at the opening of the stock market. U. S. Steel, Baldwin and U. S. Rubber advanced fractionally lower. Jones & Laughlin, which was heavily last week advanced three points and International Telephone one point. Rails were mixed.

HOW TO STOP SORE, BLEEDING RECEDING GUMS

Dentists say that a great majority of people either have pyorrhea (Riggs Disease) or pyorrhea ten. The beginning is sore, red, bleeding or bleeding gums, sensitive or loose teeth, pus pockets and bad odors. Pyorrhea not only affects the gums and teeth, but also your general health, as the pus, which is very poisonous, is absorbed into the system causing serious stomach troubles, the results of which are sometimes fatal. You can now treat pyorrhea at home and get relief with formula known as Crescene, the new discovery that, through potentiation, carries powerful but harmless germicides, of which cresote (the greatest germ-destroying, tissue-preserving agency known and used by dentists for years) is the base, right to the roots of the teeth. Killing the pyorrhea germs, making the gums healthy, removing up and preserving the teeth, healing pus pockets, removing pain and destroying odor caused by decayed or abscessed teeth.

Crescene is pleasant to use, and should be used by every one who wears a plate, as it keeps the gums firm and healthy and free from pain. $1.00 at your druggist and your money back if it fails. Crescene Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

All Pile Up On Pacific Coast; Fog Is Cause

naval surgeons in giving first aid treatment. A twist of fate that sent the destroyer Ikeno, tearing southward at 30 knots an hour to the west of the channel island instead of down the Santa Barbara channel, according to her schedule, saved 68 survivors from the wreck of the Pacific Mail Liner Cuba from almost certain death at the hands of the Japanese. The commander, Lieutenant Commander J. R. Barry, the Reno, after groping her way southward through the fog banks, reached San Pedro today with the passengers and crew of the wrecked Cuba.

Lost in the fog and headed due west for the open sea, in the belief that they were being chased by the land of the Japanese, the boat was sighted last yesterday by the Reno as she was speeding through the fog on her annual full power trials. Chance sighting of the first life boat through a rift in the fog was all that saved the Cuba's ill-fated passengers, declared Commander Barry. "We were making 30 knots and were scheduled to have passed down the inside of the channel, but the fog was so thick that I decided to strike outside for safety."

"About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, we sighted a small boat on our beam. We thought it was a fishing boat at first, but as we dashed by I saw it carried too many persons for such a craft. Three miles farther out we passed a second boat and knew that they were in distress. "Our speed was so terrific that we were forced to make a long circle of more than five miles to slow down before we reached the first lifeboat, in charge of the Cuba's chief engineer, W. J. Owens."

"Owens had his craft as well as the one following headed directly west in the belief that they were going east. He gave us an idea where the Cuba was piling up and an hour later we found her, diving by the head and the heavy sea piling over her decks."

"The passengers, women and children, wearing coats and overclothing of the ship's officers, were lying in bedraggled heaps about the beach."

"Fog and lost bearings, aggravated by the lack of wireless to ascertain compass bearings, was responsible for the accident, according to the officers of the Cuba."

"Our radio set has been disabled since we left the Panama canal and we knew we were lost yesterday morning, but we were helpless without radio," said Radio Operator E. N. Willis.

INQUEST FOR MONEY

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Sept. 9.—Twenty pounds in gold, found by a boy, was the subject for an inquest recently. The jury learned the boy gave the police immediately and did not try to hide it. As a result he may get a grant of 16 pounds by the government for his honesty.

were wrecked yesterday morning and last night. The navy vessels crashed on the rocks in the For of Arguello light, 75 miles north of Santa Barbara, and the passenger steamer on a reef off the southeast end of San Miguel Island, 36 miles off this port. Twenty-five enlisted men of the destroyers lost their lives and the destroyers were reported as total losses. The liner Cuba was reported to have sunk during the night, but all passengers and members of her crew either were landed at Los Angeles by the destroyer Ikeno or are on their way to San Francisco or on board the Standard Oil tanker, W. S. Miller, with the exception of Captain Holland, the purser, steward and eight seamen, who remained on board to guard a shipment of $2,500,000 in silver bullion.

Dense fog was the cause of both disasters. The destroyers Chauncey, Woodbury, Fuller, S. P. Lee, Nicholas, Young and Delphy, were all beached within a few minutes of one another, according to naval officers. The flotilla, of which the wrecked craft formed a part, was in command of Capt. Edward Watson, of the Delphy, and was on a practice cruise.

The dead were all trapped in their bunks on the Young when that vessel listing and was drowned when the craft capsized within two minutes after striking.

More than 500 men were rescued from the wrecked destroyers, which tonight were reported to be pounding to pieces on the rocks, all total losses.

Of the survivors, 15 of the seriously injured were brought to the Santa Barbara hospital here. One hundred others were cut and bruised in their swim to safety over the jagged rocks. The destroyers were traveling in formation at 20 knots an hour in a heavy sea and dense fog when the leading vessel crashed.

Carried ahead by a strong tide the others piled on the beach in succession. The boats tonight lay in line along the shore at intervals of 250 feet. One of them, the Chauncey was resting high on the rocks.

A partial list of the dead, as officially announced, follows:

U. S. Skipper, Joseph Slimaka, Henry Ark, Buchanan Harrison, Enrique Torres, Reddock, Sales, Martin, Kirby, Grady Ben Schanz, Taylor, Overholser, Duncan, Ray H. Morris, John Young, C. F. Rogers and Conroy.

The body of Conroy was the only one recovered tonight when all efforts to obtain the others had been fruitless.

The seas were running so heavy that it was only a few minutes after the crash that all of the destroyers were taking water.

The rescue of most of the crew of the Young was effected when Boat-

OFFICERS ARE LANDED EXCEPT THE NICHOLAS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The officers of all the destroyers which ran aground off Arguello light, California, with the exception of the Nicholas, have been landed on the island. The Nicholas was informed tonight. The dispatch said 10 lives were known to be lost and that the bodies would be taken to San Diego on a special train. The commander of the destroyer squadron of the Pacific battle fleet was said to be on the scene.

Admiral Roberson, commanding the Pacific fleet confirmed reports that seven destroyers were aground. "Seven destroyers ran aground 9 p. m. September, two miles north of Point Arguello," he said in a dispatch to the navy department.

"Reports indicate 10 lives lost. Names unknown. Commander's destroyer squadron, battle fleet, now on scene in charge and reports dense fog. Men on all destroyers except Nicholas reported landed. All personnel not required for salvage work, and 10 bodies being sent to San Diego on special train."

"All available tug, mine sweepers and salvage facilities being dispatched to scene. Commander destroyer squadron number 11 instructed to report dead and injured to navy department direct."

MORNING COTTON LETTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Liverpool keeps up the pace there and comes over sixty American points higher again today. Saturday brought a runaway market here and we have now had an advance of seven cents in six weeks. This is a record for cotton and the ship is now moving in an uncharted sea. There are no landmarks to go by and the market is moving too fast for the average trader. There has been an advance of four cents and that is a big advance for a million bales already gained in Texas.

WHEN THE ECLIPSE HITS DANVILLE

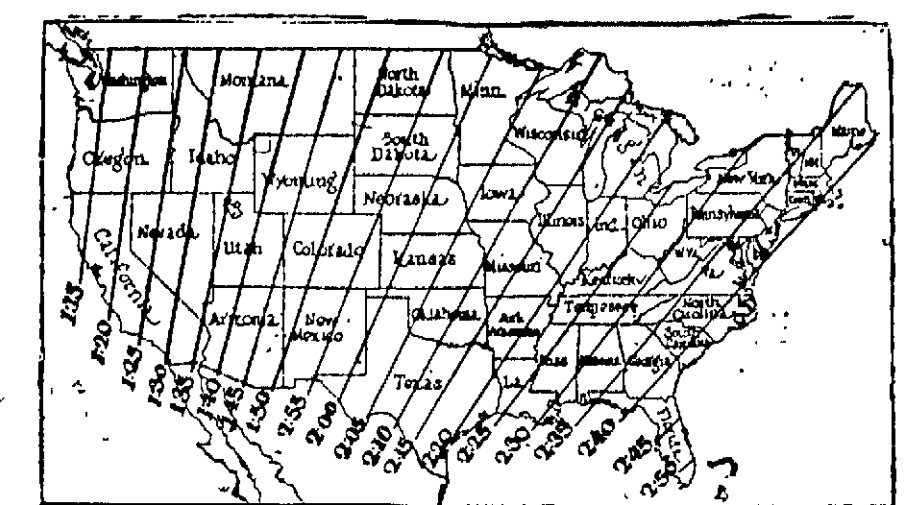

Chart shows approximate standard time beginning of total eclipse of the sun on the afternoon of Sept. 10 over all sections of the country as indicated by lateral lines. The manifestation will be visible in its totality only in south-western California and Northern Mexico.

THE OLD GUARD

For the first time since the organization of the Piedmont League, Danville is near to winning a pennant, at least nearer than ever before.

The great Herb Murphy is plotting towards a bunting there are only two players that could be termed among the "Old Guard"—Floyd Trexler and Eddie Regan. The two players are among the leaders in the loop. Trexler's stick is dreaded by every league and the property of the Tobaccoists and has been used regularly in outfield, where his spectacular catches have won him applause from the stands as often as his slashing hits.

This is "Trexler's" fourth year in organized baseball and as yet no umpire has stuck a finger, or for that matter both hands, in his face, meaning he has never been fined. The star out-fielder says it is all due to "knowing when to hush." High Point's Trexler slip and no doubt Morgul Lyons has regretted the move several times since.

A humorous incident occurring in a recent game shows what others consider his worth to a club. Playing Greensboro Trexler, who had been in the preceding frame that had scored several runs. Bill Pierre, one time High Point receiver, squatting behind the plate peered up at him with that melancholy expression which is the mental of teeth flashed into view and said: "Trexler you know I used to say you couldn't hit." Remembering his slip from the Furniture City while Bill caught there the pride of Danville's fandon only smiled, but gave here a hand on the next hit. He signed his battery mate for it was scudding across left field for Floyd's second hit of the game.

"Flash Archdeacon, II." Eddie Regan, the speed demon of the Bramham wheel, and the other member of Danville's "Old Guard," played his first full season with the Virginians in 1921, the same time as Trexler. Recently a South Atlantic League fan, and a strong backer of Maurics Archdeacon, II., was in the game here on account of Murphy's base center fielder as "Flash Archdeacon, the Second." Eddie's base pilfering record for the year looks like an American dollar when turned into German currency.

Regan has been fined only once. Archdeacon, II., was in the Piedmont and the penalty was at the hands of Empire Walsh, who later was kicked out of the league for pitching a tete-a-tete with John Barrymore in the Twin City. Walsh was badly off on his day after the day and Bill Britebeck and Murphy preceded Eddie to the plate and both men protested vigorously on his calling of the heaves, but the arbiter failed to penalize either of the two.

Eddie came up next the first time looked well, he let it pass. Walsh, who had been in the game, looked out "Strike One." Regan only shuffled his flying feet. The next was worse and before the umpire could speak Eddie turned his head and snapped "Strike Two" at the umpire. Walsh retaliated "Ball One." Five dollars later the time was made to read "ten bucks." Some weeks later after he was discharged as an umpire Walsh struck Danville on his "Uppers" in other words "down and out." A hat was passed around and Regan forgetting difficult to find after he had been in the game with the other players.

Two players, seven years in organized ball and only one fine is a record few clubs have.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The newspapers over the week-end call attention to the rise in cotton in connection with the purchasing power of the country. In a few weeks three cents will be added to the price of cotton which means an additional purchase of 100,000,000 dollars, a sum sufficient to buy an assortment of 200,000 automobiles of the various makes; a sum sufficient to buy so many carloads of household necessities, farm implements, material for new homes and barns to keep the nation busy for months. We need to take to include the grain farmer in the class of big buyers and we may have the privilege before long.

I think we watch statistics too closely. You know that statistics become valueless when the price advances to a level where consumption is curtailed or declines to the cost of production. I believe the tendency in all directions will be toward something better.

Town Topics

The civil term of the corporation court opened this morning with a good many of the cases already disposed of so far as the present term is concerned. The docket contains 97 cases of which 16 have been settled out of court and thus dismissed and 31 continued. The large number of continuances was granted by Judge Withers who knew that the cases could not be heard between now and the end of the month and since October is a civil term of court most of the cases continued will be heard then. This morning's session of court was devoted principally to hearing appealed liquor and traffic cases carried up from the police court.

The Albright Construction Company which has the contract to improve the Henry county road is moving to make available as soon as possible at least one section of the concrete road. A stretch terminating at the point where the Wenonda road turns off has been completed. The mixer has been brought back to Richardson's store and work will be hastened to pouring concrete from in front of Burton Redd's home westward to the point where the stretch to the Wenonda road begins. Another mixer will be established this week and this will provide concrete to be laid eastward to the junction of Schoolfield Hill with the Henry county road. The plan is to complete one continuous stretch by the time the tobacco season opens.

Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor yesterday morning conducted a special service at Epiphany church following which was the administration of the Holy Communion designated especially for those young men and women leaving Danville this week to resume their collegiate courses. Rev. Taylor preached on the verse found in Mark X, verse 21, stressing particularly the spiritual endowment given to every mind, heart and will and the unlimited capabilities of each if subject to the will of the omnipotent and directed by knowledge of him.

The public works committee is to hold another meeting today with a view to discussing the merits of a new North Danville cemetery proposition, on which a report probably will be made at tonight's council meeting which will be held at eight o'clock. The matter was explained in committee in order that W. R. Harrison, one of the three committeemen who has been out of town might be present to hear the discussion.

Announcement was made this morning of a business change in this city. Mr. Long, for the past five years manager of Farley's store in Danville has been selected by the concern to take charge of a new store opened by that company in Montgomery, Ala., and leaves next Sunday to assume his new position. Montgomery being his home city. Mr. Long has made a good business record here and his choice as manager of the new store is an appreciation of his managerial capacity. His place in Danville is being taken by B. L. McGinnis, of Rome, Ga., who has already entered upon his new duties in this city.

Work has been started on the addition to the grand stand at the fair grounds which, when completed will seat 800 additional persons bringing the capacity of the whole grand stand to 2,500. The Danville fair begins one month from tomorrow and Secretary H. R. Watkins is already devoting much of his time to the preliminary details of the annual event. The exhibition halls are this week being cleaned and repaired and generally made ready for the fair.

Rev. E. Pendleton Jones, of the Eastern Shore, father of Rev. John Pate Jones, of Lee Street Baptist church, began a two weeks' revival in that church last night before a large congregation. Fred W. Kennedy is conducting the song service which is to be a feature of the meetings. The visiting minister is distinguished in Baptist circles and is one of four sons of Rev. J. J. Williams Jones, for many years chaplain to General Robert E. Lee. Beside him there is Rev. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church, Philadelphia, and Rev. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of the once de la Rue Baptist church in Atlanta. The third brother, Rev. Howard Lee Jones, died some years ago.

Ous Burrell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burrell, 501 Calhoun street, in the Central Baptist church, suffering from injuries to his head and less and with possible internal hurts as result of an accident which took place on Calhoun street Sunday evening at about half past four o'clock. The boy was struck by an automobile and knocked into the street car track just as an eastbound street car arrived which fortunately was stopped just in time with the boy caught on the trip ladder and underneath the platform. According to statements by the driver of the sidewalk and was struck by an automobile driven by E. G. Ingram, Danville R. F. D. No. 3, the car knocking him flat on his back across one of the street car rails. The street car was approaching from the west when it struck the boy before the driver and R. T. McGinnis, conductor. The street car was stopped as quickly as possible or just as the boy's body touching the trip ladder pressed him up. The car was backed away and the boy got up and walked to the sidewalk. He was taken home and later removed to the General Hospital. The driver of the car is understood to have been summoned to court when an enquiry will be made into the accident.

GIVEN ONLY YEAR TO LIVE, VETERAN TAKES PAW PAW AND REGAINS HEALTH

Allentown Man, Nervous, Sick and Failing, Gains 14 Lbs. and Gets Back on His Feet

Herbert A. Snyder, 1012 Turner St., Allentown, Pa., went to a healthy man. He came back gassed, nervous, run-down and depressed. His condition became worse and worse. Soon he despaired of ever being well again. Doctors doubted whether he would live a whole year! Today Mr. Snyder is a changed man. He has regained his health. He has added fourteen pounds to his weight. His appetite is unusually good. His nervousness and depression are gone. He sleeps well and has plenty of energy and ambition.

What caused this wonderful change? What brought back the joy of living to this war veteran, cast away his despondency and gave him health and happiness? Ask Mr. Snyder and he will tell you he owes the change to the marvelous effects of Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic, the national strength-builder.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1923.

ACTION IN SIGHT AT LAST.

Announcement that a definite step toward remedying the present conditions at the city almshouse will be taken tonight at the monthly meeting of the city council, will be received with satisfaction, especially among those who are under the delusion as to the inadequacy of the present treatment afforded the poor.

The Committee on Public Welfare is to recommend unanimously the appointment of a commission to study Danville's actual needs and once this is done, to submit plans of a building and what is perhaps most important of all a site for the new building. The preparation of plans should not be difficult as the city health officer has had plans of a building which would come within the $20,000 appropriation which was included in this year's budget. The city council is performing its tasks more and more through committees and there is every reason to believe that a united affirmation on the commission plan by the Public Welfare committee will meet an affirmative response from the council as a whole.

Once this is done, the almshouse
project should not be permitted to lie dormant and the appointment of the commission by the council committee should be undertaken without loss of time in order that material progress may be made and the present plan carried out to fruition as swiftly as possible. The almshouse matter has swayed to and fro since January or since the time city ministers went before the council and depicted graphically shortcomings in the existing method of dealing with the poor which conditions have not been altered in any essential feature since that time.

The obligation on the part of the community to provide a comfortable haven for those who have grown old and outlived the support of the younger generation is as imperative as it is constant. The time has come to meet it squarely since further procrastination can be viewed only as an evasion of an immediate duty.

THE EVILS OF A KEEN MEMORY.

An exceptionally keen memory is often a sign of ill health, claims the medical editor of a leading paper. A new idea this, that there is apt to be something physically at fault with the person who remembers too much of the past, especially the unpleasant.

Strong and healthy people seem to forget the unpleasant things of life—disasters from their childhood, as we discard old rubbish not worth any further thought. The unhealthy, particularly the brooding neurosthetics, garden their troubles. They keep disappointing memories in mind—nurse and coax them along. Like the person who "enjoys poor health."

The art of forgetting, within reasonable bounds, is as desirable an accomplishment as the development of keen memory. All of us have rough lumps and heartaches in life. If we weren't able to forget them, existence would be almost unbearable. Memory has to do with the past. The man with keen memory is often an overburdened back yard. And the reason of the man with the ability to forget he has run down the old trail, on the past; he is living in the present and the future. Europe's chief trouble is its inability to forget the prophecies, injustices and horrors of the past. Forgetting is not an accident.
It's an effort of the will power, claims the London medical editor. The easier for us to blot the past from our conscious minds. The jovial healthy person with the art of forgetting has a great advantage. He may not be able entirely to ignore the unpleas-anties of life as they come along, but he at least doesn't meet them with a magnifying glass. A good memory is most valuable when accompanied by a good forgettery.

PINCHOT AND THE NOMINATION.

Governor Gifford Pinchot's successful mediation in the anthracite difficulty in which, after tireless effort, he drew both the operators and the representatives of the United Mine Workers to common ground, is the outstanding feature in the career of an honest and fearless man. It was these characteristics which drew him from comparative obscurity to the governorship of Pennsylvania—the seat of the anthracite war.

It was quite natural that his success in dealing with these two refractory elements that attention should be turned to him in the larger light of presidential nomination at a time when timber in the political forests are being sounded out. For that reason it is perhaps a little misleading.

It would be hard for any figure with a political past to accomplish something for the good of the people without being drawn into the arena on which the spotlight is being drawn.

It is always good to remember, however, that political managers or the guiding forces of the major parties
do not pick candidates for the good they have done as they do for other qualifications, chiefly their capacity for making a winning race. The Republican organization leaders while applauding Mr. Pinchot's service to the nation will hardly forget that he hails from Pennsylvania and that that State is not an effective stamping ground for presidential candidates.

A BUSINESS CODE OF ETHICS.

(Norfolk, Va., Pilot.)
The suggestion of the president of the International Rotary Club that business men of America should unite in the adoption of a national code of business conduct is entitled to considerate attention. The Rotary leader is correct in asserting that public sentiment in this country is tending toward a more exacting and sensitive business conduct. The difficulties proposed by less than a person than the Chief Justice of the United States.
The value of such codes in the professions is undoubted. Not only do they create a standard by which all practitioners may measure their conduct, but they also give professional men a guide and overcome to a large extent the lack of experience in professional matters.

For business men a specific recital of business standards should be equally as valuable. The difficulties in the code of preparing code of business conduct are numerous because of the varied character of business enterprise. A committee of lawyers can foresee with reasonable certainty the contingencies that will confront members of their profession, while a committee of doctors can exercise a similar foresight with respect to the calling in which they are engaged. But the scope of business is so extensive and the variety of fact that a single group of men could not find it an arguable task to devise a code covering all business contingencies without carrying their work to burdensome length.
This difficulty may be met, however,
by limiting the general business code
to a few broad principles, and leaving it to the particular classes of business men to draft the codes
applying to their own lines of work.
The suggestion put forward by the Rotary executive in response to an address made at Danville and deserves to be put into practice.

PARSONS SLAYER WHILE
GOVERNOR IS ABSENT

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 8.—Sharp Weiborn, serving eight years for manslaughter, was pardoned at 10: 15 a. m. today by Lieutenant Governor C. C. Anderson in Capricorn, just eight minutes before Governor Russell crossed the State line from Louisiana into Mississippi.

The power of the Lieutenant Governor to grant pardons when the governor is absent was upheld several months ago by the Attorney General after a controversy over an act of clemency on the part of the Lieutenant Governor while Governor Russell was temporarily in Memphis, Tenn.

BILLIONS FOR A DOG

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A German painter, costing $125,000,000 marks,
was forwarded today from New York
to Dr. Paul Jacson, in Frankfurt, Germany, for the purpose of painting
the name of Hartzel, and other characters, on the hull of the German ship Hamburg, which was to be sent to Hamburg.

200 FOREIGNERS KILLED.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Two hundred foreigners were killed at Yokohama,
according to the Navy Department, and about 200 more were killed in the city of Yokohama, Japan,
today in the earthquake.

MONUMENT IS LEGACY

WINCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 8.—The estate of Joseph P. Puffer, trustee of the Puffer family, who died recently, will be used to erect a monument to the memory of the Puffer family, and the expense of the monument will be paid by the Puffer family.

MRS. BLACK DIES

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Pen-nycuik, wife of the owner of Martine, a famous race horse, died today at her home in the Ritz Carlton Hotel.
She had been ill for six weeks. Before her marriage she was Miss Birdie Swarthchild, of Chicago.

DIABLES BRANCH, Sept. 10.
(Grapevine Wireless.)—A band of the horse thieves who fear that the motor car will eventually crowd the horse off the streets may take heart
from the defiant blast
sounded by a circus professor, who declares that the obituary of the horse
will never be written so long as the circus lives.

Good. The circus industry seems to be in pretty fair health this summer, judging from the almost weekly attention it is getting from the ten-year old. And a circus without horses is a thing which would be as commonplace as the attachment which a man feels for a steam radiator after knowing the glow and comradship of a backlog burning in his own fireplace.

Further word in behalf of the horse
comes from the College of Agriculture at Cornell University. The word is that the demand for a bulletin in judging horses first issued a number of years ago, has been so continuous that a new and revised edition has been prepared.

Force of Habit.
Aunt Perma while entertainin'
Uncle Pildoozer at dinner yesterday asked him if he'd have some of the corn, when he thoughtlessly passed his glass instead of his plate.

What He Liked Best.
Before I tell this story I must say that I am exceedingly slender build.
One day I was visiting a friend who had a small boy who has a dog. The dog took a great interest in me and was close to my feet the whole time.
As I was leaving I remarked, "I wonder why Laddie follows me so closely."

"Maybe he thinks you are a bone,"
piped the boy.

Harnessed.
Are you harnessed to a dray? Are you hitched unto a star?
Are you coupled to a ray or imprisoned with a bar?

If you want your freedom here
There's a way you can escape—
Through your fancy and your dreams.
Every form and any shape!

If you have to feel the bit and the pull of steady reins.
You will chafe and you will sweat and have many aches and pains.
But the wings of hope are yours,
And you spread them at your will!

For the prisoned soul that soars
Can forget the ache and ill!

You may hear the clinking chains,
But above their clink, Ah, me!
What a music of the stars, what a thunder of the sea!
Never harness kept a man
From the freedom of the soul
If he listened in the night
To the surging plans of roll!

New Use For Hoohs.

(From the American Issue.)
In the opinion of experts the New Jersey mosquito has met its Waterloo in the present day hooh. These experts declare that the New Jersey brand of hooh might be used effectively to completely exterminate mosquitoes. They recommend that instead of pouring the seized hooh down sewers
it should be poured over the mosquito-infested pools where they declare it would be even more effective than oil in exterminating the millions of pests which have helped to make New Jersey famous.

A dollar in the bank is worth fifty ows because grass makes hay while the sun shines.

Summer is passing. It is estimated electric fans have blown out nine million matches already!

Meet Mr. Dubb!
I like the game of Bridge, 'tis true,
I'm fond of it—and
About the only thing I do;
Go set, and set, and set.

A man who was standing on the sidewalk of a building, yesterday,
in spite of the heat, estimated that a hundred dollars worth of murels passed him on foot and in cars inside of a few hours.

First decide what you want to do before you try to do it.

Col. Bill Keeling says one advantage in driving slow is that the idiot
you are meeting will have water momentum and will knock you out into a soft plowed field.

"Oh, what is so raw as sunburn in September, complains Gladys.

BERTZIAN Broadcasting station WGY (Sche-

for the best radio drama submitted before Dec. 1. WGY has been feeding long-distance drama to the radio since for a year, and has gotten a great enough "buzz" out of its listeners to convince it that a new form of dramatic art is in the making. The idea of a radio drama is an audience.
The appeal is to the ear. The experimentation of one of these days will be on a way to enable the radio audience to see, by radio, the play being staged at the broadcasting station.

One disadvantage, using radio, will be that the audience will not see the actors, and the audience will not see the scenery, and the audience will not see the costumes, and the audience will not see the props, and the audience will

Emerson-Shorter

Earle V. Emerson and Miss Serena Belle Shorter were married Monday evening, August 27, at the home of Rev. Charles L. Ledford, 1009 Paxton street, Rev. Mr. Ledford performing the ceremony.

The marriage has been kept secret since that time and was first known to their many friends today when the young couple left for a honeymoon in western Virginia. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shorter and has many friends in the city. The groom also is a native of Danville and is employed in the automobile business. Upon their return they will make their home in Danville.

To Take Training

Miss Carrie Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter W. Wilson, has gone to Richmond to enter Stuart Circle Hospital where she will take a three year course in nursing.

Leaves for College

Miss Carson left today for Oxford College, Oxford, Ohio, where she will continue her work for her degree as Bachelor of Music.

Floyd-Spruce

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Spruce of Chatham, was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday afternoon when their daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, became the bride of Edgar Allen Floyd. The bride party assembled in the parlor, which was a bower of ferns and roses, lit by the glow of soft-tinted candles. At 3 o'clock the doors were opened and while the wedding march was played, Misses Kathleen and Inez Shields ushered in the friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Miss Blandford Fowler then sang, "When You Are Truly Mine," accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Dudley. Aldrich's "Love and Flowers" was softly played during the ceremony, which was pronounced by Rev. H. B. Hardaway of the Baptist church. The bride wore a dress of old rose and black picture hat. Little Catherine White, dressed in dainty pink organdie, with hat to match, carried the ring in a silver basket lined with rose leaves. Col. A. W. Camden was best man. The bride never looked lovelier than on this occasion as she appeared in a travelling suit of blue, with grey accessories, and carrying a bouquet of bride's roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd are both popular young people of Chatham and after a short honeymoon trip will reside at Chatham Training School, where Mr. Floyd has been a teacher for the past six years.

Mrs. Floyd is a graduate of Chatham Episcopal School and has been a successful teacher, loved and admired by a large circle of friends. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were:

Mr. and Mrs. Rawley Shields, Mrs. Bob Easley, Mrs. Spruce Easley, Mrs. J. C. Prather, Mrs. Harvie Dodson, and daughter, Doris, and Miss Garland Shields.

New Danville High School Teachers Honored

Misses Grace and Hyla Bagly entertained informally at bridge Saturday evening at their home on Broad street in honor of the new Danville High school teachers. The color scheme of pink and white was beautifully carried out in decorations and refreshments. Punch was served during the game. Later a delicious ice course with almonds and mints was enjoyed.

The top-score lady's prize, a dainty hand-made handkerchief, was won by Miss Frances Hall. W. C. Griggs made the highest score among the men and was presented with two decks of cards.

Those playing were Misses Hollifield, Drucilla Smith, Frances Hall, Helen Robertson, and Messrs. Sone, Poindexter, Rolston, W. C. Griggs, Rutherford Harvie.

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

I wonder if you have seen the last "Fidland," my dear? It had a very interesting story in it about that young woman called Paula Perier, of whom I asked you in my last letter. She seems to have made quite a figure out in Hollywood.

Dick writes me that the girl has beauty, spirituality and intellect. He seems quite taken with her talent.

It is a queer kind of life that Dick has been hurled into out there, Leslie. From what he writes me I can see that everyone is living up to his last ounce of nervous energy.

Dick's letters do not seem like Dick at all—my Dick, whom I have always thought was the very essence of calmness and contentment—I can see he is getting all mixed-up in his ideas. His thoughts and conclusions are as jerky as the sentences in his letters.

Sometimes, Leslie dear, I am very sorry that I either did not go with Dick to "Los," as he calls it, or else persuade him to stay here. You see, he said he would do just as I wanted him to in the matter. He left it to me, Leslie, but I, knowing that he wanted to go very badly, of course said "go."

Why is it, Leslie, that a loving woman, if she is called upon to decide a question for her man, always waits until she knows what he wants to do and then tells him that is the thing that my only objection to the whole scheme was the long, lonely three months I would have to spend before I could join Dick. I know now that in the back of my head was always a feeling that when the time came for me to join him, it would be like joining a stranger. He has gone into a different world a world where people think differently. Indeed their whole trend of mind as well as thought is away from the prosaic and commonplace.

Perhaps you are saying, Leslie dear, that I am a little bit afraid to have my Dick out there among those pretty girls. We hear so much about this sex appeal. Even Dick has got the pargon of the screen and he writes me that this or that girl will not make a good picture actress, that she has no sex appeal.

Just what it is I do not know, but it seems to me that the word "night" be made synonymous feminine personality. You know, I have never posed as a beauty and I have dreamed that Dick cared for me because of my kind. I wonder if there is a personal magnetism that makes a greater appeal than does a clear mind and sympathetic spirit?

Oh, Leslie, Leslie, like poor Dick, I am all mixed up.

Your loving, BEE.

TOMORROW: Leslie to Beatrice—A sermon on love.

DOG CARRYING HUMAN HAND IN HIS MOUTH LEADS TO DISCOVERY

ALMA, Ga., Sept. 10.—A dog carrying a human hand in its mouth here this afternoon, led to the discovery of the bodies of Luther Knowles, 17, and his brother Estell, 15, on the tracks of the Atlantic, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

The boys had been instructed to watch a broken down automobile for their father, but apparently left the car and sat down on the railroad tracks, being hit by a Brunswick-Atlanta fast train. There will be an inquest tomorrow.

Murphy's Virginians Open Last Week In Durham

Maitland Defeats Bull Tribe 5 To 2

The Danville baseball team, known as the First Flying Virginians, won their fourth consecutive game yesterday, defeating the Durham team by 5 to 2, by consecutive and timely batting in the last four innings of the game in which they batted.

From a fielding standpoint, it was a fine exhibition of the game, for a fielding error was charged. Freddie Dorman rapped a fast grounder almost over second which Second baseman Holme was able to knock down, but could not handle the ball in time to retire the runner at first. Center fielder George Whitted, a veteran pitcher, was playing in the seventh, with two men out and Regan on third, but Maitland did the unexpected, slamming a hard rap to center which carried farther than the fielder anticipated, with the result that he was not able to get under the ball. Possibly a few other fielders might have nabbed the ball and averted the run which gave Danville its winning lead, but the play could not be charged as an error.

Aside from these two plays there was nothing resembling a holding error, while, on the other hand, there were several particularly fine plays. Excelling any other single play of the game, and in the judgment of many, one of the greatest catches seen here during the four seasons of the Piedmont league was made by Maitland. The ball was hit to a point near the west end of the bleachers and at the crack of the bat Dorman began springing in the direction it would take. From deep short to extremes left, 20 or 25 feet from the third-base line, he ran and another step would have brought him into collision with the barrier in front of the bleachers. Headless of the danger and intent only on the effort to retire the batsman, Dorman just reached the ball, moving almost in the same direction in which he was breaking the ground. He caught it, and when he caught it he dived headlong over the bleacher fence or guard-rail and landed with his head between two seats of the bleachers. But he held on to the ball. Springfield, a fast man, was on second and when he saw Dorman's dive and his prostrate position he dashed for third. Quick as a flash, Dorman regained his feet and buried the ball to third, but Cochlin was a foot or two beyond the base-runner's path and narrowly missed tagging him out. Few people in the grandstand, upper or lower, were in position to see the spectacular catch.

Stittler for Durham and Maitland for Danville were both in excellent form, and for four innings neither team could score. In the fifth, when the gooses egg row in the fifth, only to have the Bulls knot the count in their half of the sixth when Butts drove a hard liner to extreme left which hopped into and across the schoolhouse yard and went into the basement before it could be recovered. Butts registering.

Undismayed, Danville came back in the same inning with four hits and a sacrifice, which yielded but one run because the local base-runners were taking chances, as they should have done. Dorman had opened the inning with a hit over second and Leard had laid it down. Smith's clean, timely single to right sent Dorman in with what was destined to be the only run of the inning for his team. When the ball was elided to the plate in an ineffectual effort to nip Dorman, Smith dashed for second but was cut down by Vigore's excellent peg to Springfield and on a close play, Trexler then singled to left and advanced to third when Resco rapped a safety to right. A moment later Trexler was caught on third, and the infielders closed in and boxed him, finally running him out. Five men participating in the play. Thus the four hits and sacrifice netted but one run, with but one man left on base.

Dorman lost his bolt when Butts hammered his homer, but they kept pluckily at it. In the seventh, eighth and ninth innings, Stittler opened the seventh with a base on balls for Regan, and Cochlin bunted successfully. Kearney, who had driven in the first run with his single in the fifth was outgassed by Stittler and whiffed. Then Maitland surprised everybody by his hard line fly to center, particularly Center fielder Whitted who was playing in for a weak batsman. When he did gauge the force of the drive, it was too late for him to get under the ball. Regan, of course, trotted in with what proved to be the winning run. Stittler again opened the eighth by walking Leard, and Smith bunted. Then Trexler drove out his second hit, a long single which struck high on the scoreboard and rebounded into the playing field, the blow scoring Leard who had stolen second. The visiting pitcher had yielded but one hit and that a single in the first four innings, but in the last four the local players used their bats effectively.

The Danville team will leave tomorrow morning for Durham for a two day's engagement with the Goochmen in their own ballpark, after which they will go to High Point for two games. With four games in a row away from home, the league leaders must play hard to take one or two of the four.

STRANGE FISH
MILFORD HAVEN, Eng., Sept. 8.—A strange fish measuring 4-1-2 feet around the head, and 12 feet long has been caught by a trawler off the northwest coast of Ireland. The mouth is bottle-shaped and toothless, but the body resembles a shark's.

Kinks-o' the Links

I am interested in golf but have never played the game. I read the accounts of the big tournaments with as much interest as a world traveler. At various times I notice the expression that this or that player gets a birdie on a certain hole or an eagle on the next one. Please explain the use of birdie and eagle?—R. C. H.

In golf there is a par score for every hole. We will assume that a certain hole on a golf course distance 390 yards. The official distance for computing par is that all holes measuring from 251 to 445 yards are par 4 holes. To make such a hole in 4 would be considered perfect play—par. When a player makes a hole in one under par he is said to have scored a birdie. To play a par 4 hole in three would be getting a birdie on that hole. To play a hole in two under par is getting an eagle, as the making of a par 4 hole in 2.

Please explain a "threeome" in golf?

In a threeome, one player plays his own ball against two playing one ball, as in a four-some.

Capitals Again Wallop Winston

RALEIGH, Sept. 8.—Raleigh continued the winning streak and defeated Winston Salem again this afternoon by the score of 8 to 3. The locals gave the visiting Capitals a winning performance of their games but Danville, who is leading by two and a half games also continues to win and as the season draws nearer to a close the hopes of the locals are somewhat dimming. Both teams are in the midst of a winning streak and the outcome is not yet final with only a week more of play.

Raleigh gained a decisive lead in the opening chapter by slamming out three singles, two doubles and a triple and two home runs. In fact, Pitcher Miller was hit unmercifully. However, he tightened up after the explosion and allowed the Capitals but two more tallies.

Pointers Defeat Patriots In 10th

HIGH POINT, Sept. 8.—High Point noses out victorious over Greensboro here this afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. The winning run came in the tenth inning and was forced in. Pitcher Hunter held the Patriots to seven hits while the locals garnered ten singles off O'Quinn. With the score standing two to one in the eighth inning, Greensboro's High Point tied the count. Irbly doubled, Herndon got an infield hit, Kane got a double and Irbly was thrown out at the plate. L. Thrasher was walked filling the bases and his brother, Gus Thrasher also waited and forced in Herndon for the tying run. Neither team scored in the ninth and Greensboro did nothing in the tenth but High Point again took advantage of O'Quinn's weakening. With one out, Tolbert walked, Kane got an infield hit, L. Thrasher doubled to left but caught in the outfield. Irbly doubled, G. Thrasher walked filling the bases again. Schmidt waited and also walked, forcing in Kane. A peculiarity was that the tying and winning runs were made in almost identically the same manner. Herndon was put out of the game or protesting a decision by Umpire Alexander. Danville Men To See Jack Dempsey And Firpo Fight Several Danville men are planning to see the Dempsey-Firpo prize fight next Friday in New York. E. H. Gregory is planning to carry one or more cars from Danville to New York with local fight enthusiasts, the car to have here at eight o'clock tomorrow morning and due to arrive in New York on Wednesday night. The party expects to return to Danville by Sunday night. Mr. Gregory said this morning that he did not know who would be in the party. All plans to use seven-passenger cars and in the event of more than seven designating their intention of going he will put on another car. He has three or four machines which he can use for the purpose. On the way back there will be a day's layover at Atlantic City. There is a good deal of interest in the two giant maulers who are to fight for world heavyweight championship honors in the New York Polo grounds next Friday.

Down the Stretch.
The great moments in the life of a hat super personage, Danville Google, when Spark Plug with his four-square hoofs kicks the dust on the lap and down the "home stretch" in best form does the second half laurels and the opportunity of meeting Greensboro for pennant honors. Starting the week in Durham the Virginians have a two and one-half game lead over their nearest rivals, Raleigh. No one seems able to stop the spurt of Danville's tribe. If they win all their games this week the Murphys must take four of their six. It seems hard to do, but were the situations reversed it would seem a downright impossibility to overcome a two and one-half game lead by losing one entire week's bill. The Tobaccoists being in the lead hold the upper hand, the final strain will tell.

Bob Maitland.
When Cude Harris was forced to leave the club on account of the class ruling he left a hole in Murphy's hurling corps that seemed impossible to fill. Then Herb's judgment of "ball flesh" reassured itself and Bob Maitland, who was not good enough for Charlie Carroll, was signed to fill the vacancy. Bob may not have filled all the gaps left by Harris but Sherlock Holmes couldn't have discovered a better substitute. Saturday Bob handed the tribe of Gooch their third defeat since joining the Danville club. Three times George "Fossum" Whitted, he that used to get the majors' backing by his stickwork, connived with the team to connect with Bob's offering.

Some Catch.
In Saturday's game Freddie Dorman made one of the greatest catches ever witnessed in Danville since organized ball has been played here. Running across the foul line he topped the bleacher rail where he caught the first into the stands after the spectacular play Dorman set the fans wild with his nifty work. The play only demonstrates the flight of Murphy's club. Ordinarily the ball would have struck the ground or stands untouched but it was at a dangerous period in the game and Dorman cast but no safety aside in his attempt to nab the horsehide.

Turned Topsy Turvy.
Last season along about this time the standing of the Piedmont League presented an altogether different outlook from the present. Parked in the cellar with no traffic ordinance to move them was the Danville club. Moving by a thread just above was Raleigh. Finally the last two games of the season rolled around and Danville had to take both games from the Capitals to keep from ending the year in the "dumps." They did. This year two clubs that fought to keep away from cellar honors are battling for second place laurels. Some switch but it is to be hoped that Danville will have the same wind-up speed as last year.

JACK DEMPSEY HELD INDOORS

(By The Associated Press.)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Jack Dempsey paced the floor of his training quarters today like a caged tiger. A heavy rain storm kept the champion from going out to practice his daily work out in preparation for his championship bout with Luis Angel Firpo next Friday and despite Dempsey's pleading Jack Kearns, manager, refused to allow any athletics in the water soaked ring adjoining the camp.

Dempsey was disappointed even more than 650 picknickers who had come from Schenectady to see the champion in action.

Dempsey has just recovered from a service of which forced him to lay off from work a few days and his manager felt that working in the rain on water soaked canvas would produce no beneficial effects. Consequently, Dempsey settled down to a game of cards with his friends and later had a heart-to-heart talk with Jimmy DeForest, who trained Firpo for his match with Jess Willard.

Caste Szabor Is Home of Refugees

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Sept. 8.—All romance has been crowded out of the famous castle of Szabor, in Upper Silesia, which is the property of Princess Hermine, wife of former Emperor William of Germany. Szabor is the most recent of German historic institutions to be brought into use for practical purposes. The stately room which was once the scene of many social functions of royalty, and in fact, the entire buildings now are housing the sturdiest guests within the recollections of the oldest of the caretakers.

Instead of being the domicile of princes and princesses the castle has been made into homes for several scores of families of workmen expelled from the Ruhr and the Rhine, land. They may have felt somewhat out of place at first but they quickly adapted themselves to their new surroundings.

When the word was passed around that German government was hard pressed for housing facilities for the thousands of men, women and children who were being sent from the

and the South Atlantic. The Virginia league race won by Wilson, a North Carolina club, over Richmond, was one of the hottest pennant fights ever recorded in the national pastime. The South Atlantic league for second half honors was near as warm. Mace ended the season only one-half game ahead of Charlotte, the first half winners. This rather funny a North Carolina club carried off for the second time the Virginia League pennant and the South Atlantic club in the Piedmont has a fine chance of taking honors in their loop. Today the Marion and Charlotte clubs start fighting a post season series and the winner will likely take on Wilson, and then the South Atlantic club will be in the line. It shouldn't be overlooked. They are inclined to belittle the Branchman loop but they are in for a surprise should such a series be arranged.

Benedict Shay.
High Point played Greensboro today, but it's more than a game with High Point—it's the "high point" of his career both on and off the field. Today is "Shay Day" in Greensboro for the popular young player tonight weds a Greensboro girl. The wedding line this afternoon will consist of the entire Gate City fandom. The hits he has presented the Carroll supporters this season will no doubt be returned two-fold and for two of that, Shay is one of the best players in the loop. In fact, an early member of an All-Piedmont outfield, and Greensboro can't honor him too much.

Indicator Manipulators.
President Branchman's state of umpires has come in for considerable criticism during the season. The criticism that are good—and those that are not so good. Numbers among the latter class is one Osborn, coupled with Cy Morgan, a good umpire, but a somewhat speedy with his fines. Osborn has been under fire all the year everywhere in the loop. His attack Saturday on Ted Smith, the last of a series of bad breaks. The Durham Sun says: "Osborn's attack is a unifying move to hand out punches." Good enough, but a play is liable to fire or suspension for his words or actions towards an umpire both on and off the field and as we have failed to call any umpire in the loop set a calling down. The man is a natural. Not to be afraid anywhere or anyhow. President Branchman's move in this case shows what the Piedmont League really is. A man is a man. America is a free country. Must a ball player humble himself on all occasions to the government? No. The criticism of everything is the wheel?

Six More Games.
Only six more games are on the regular Piedmont schedule. If Raleigh wins all the Danville must take four. Of the six each club has for away from home. Danville plays to day and tomorrow in Durham, Wednesday and Thursday in High Point, ending the week and the season here. Friday and Saturday with the Capitals, Raleigh's last game. Tomorrow in Winston. Wednesday and Thursday at home with Greensboro and Friday and Saturday at High Point. Maybe Duke will lose that hit foot and "Jumbo" his horsehide. Who can tell?

occupied area as an outcome of passive resistance to the French and Belgians, Princess Hermine volunteered to turn over her old home to the government. In fact, the princess gave a special opening from Düsseldorf, where she and the former kaiser are living to Szabor to the castle in order for the new guest who are to make it their home a home as necessary.

The castle was no means stripped. Much of the ancient furniture remains and all the copper cook utensils in the immense kitchen. The kitchen is used as a centre cooking place for all the families. Part of the garden and the group near the castle also have been given over to use by the refugees and for children playground.

Hermine continues to supervise the operations of the estate which is devoted chiefly to agriculture. For this purpose she makes frequent trips to Szabor, usually taking with her several of her little children. For herself, Hermine has reserved one great room. This room she and her children occupy when they are at Szabor. There usually remain there a week or so of each visit.

Princess Vilma Lovf-Pulchitzky, the eminent portrait painter who recently in New York and who is said to be painted former Emperor William in more positions than an artist, caused an upheaval in Berlin art circles some years ago when the present generation of artists will never forget.

Princess Vilma is 33 years of age and was a high school graduate. She was a high school graduate in the art school, which she attended for seven years. She was a high school graduate in the art school, which she attended for seven years. She was a high school graduate in the art school, which she attended for seven years.

Vilma's portraits of the emperor caused no particular undue concern outside art circles as William frequently had sat for various wilders of the brush, but when a Jew of Berlin art exhibition had out of her paintings society was set on fire. The painting was rejected, it was explained, at the time on the ground that her work lacked the real artistic touch and the purity, considered necessary in the picture which was to hang on the wall beside some of the world's great works. The jury decision, however, did not trouble Vilma. She merely appealed to the Kaiser and the next day, by imperial order, her work and hung in the gallery hall despite the protest of the art circles. Not long afterward Vilma was awarded the Grand Medal of the first order of the empire—honors.

Vilma who was a Hungarian, studied here with two of Germany's greatest painters—Franz von Schuch and Makart, and became acquainted with the younger artists of her first husband. When he died she married the Russian Prince Lovf. As a princess she became prominent in Berlin society. She gave a table and a feast at the Philharmonie, where she sat on a specially arranged throne and received the honors of imperial guests. She owned a castle on the river and a fitted back and forth during the seasons between Berlin and France. She painted Bismarck, Von Moltke, Sudermann, Prince von Radlow, and many other men of the empire.

Krupp, the old "cannon-king," said her, Vilma remembered Krupp a boy, which he said afterwards was "a painting" and it is said, he too, painted never before. Her portrait after he sat for his portrait.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

YANKIES TAKE TWO FROM BOSTON TEAM
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The New York Yankees defeated Boston in both sections of a double header here today, the American League champions winning by scores of 6 to 2, and 4 to 0.

Home runs by Will and Scott accounted for four of the Yankee runs in the first game.
Will and Ruth also hit home runs in the second game, the latter's hit being his 34th of the season and places him only one behind Cy Williams, of the Philadelphia Nationals. Ruth's home run was tainted as Ichelle misjudged his high fly.

EHMKE PITCHES A NO-HIT GAME

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Howard Ehmke of the Boston Red Sox, cast-off pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, Friday pitched a no-hit no-run game against the Athletics here, winning 4 to 0. It was the second time this season and the second this week of which the team led by Connie Mack has been the victim.
Sam Jones of the New York Yankees turned the trick here Tuesday and but two men got on first, it may be said, although a third reached the base on a force-out of one of the two that got on by means of a walk and an error, respectively. Ehmke's performance was almost an exact duplication of Jones' feat, that one of the two who reached first did so by means of a walk or the other on an error. In both instances the lone base on balls occurred in the early part of the game and the error in the later stages.

JOIE RAY RUNS THRILLING MILE

(By The Associated Press)

YANKEE STADIUM, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A spectacular mile race by Joie Ray, two flashing sprint victories by Loren Murchison, and the establishment of a new American record for the 440 yard girls' relay stood out against a back ground of brilliant performances this afternoon by Galley, of international track and field, and starters in the Wilco Athletic Association's pre-Olympic carnival.

Finished in a downpour of rain that turned the track into a sea of mud, the meet brought together close to 150 athletes from many parts of his country, as well as England and Sweden, and was witnessed by a crowd of 7,000.
Ray, running under the colors of the Illinois A. C. Hung up the fastest time for the mile recorded in American tracks in several seasons when he distanced a small field that had him practically no opposition after the first quarter mile. Having the benefit of the dry track that prevailed early in the afternoon the doctory little Chicago runner was clocked in 4 minutes 14.5 seconds, leading his nearest rival, Walter Englund, a Buffalo schoolboy, by 123 yards. The time was only two and a fifth second slower than the recognized world mark of 4:12.3-5, held by Norman Taber, although Faave Norrmid Finnish star was recently credited with the remarkable time of 4:10.2-5 a mark not yet officially passed upon. In was Ray's best performance since 1918, when he captured the national A. O. U. championship in 4:14.2-5.

The credit record of the day went to the credit of the Meadowbrook club's quartette in the 440 yard relay, their time of 54.2-5 seconds displacing the former American mark of 57.4-5 made by the University of Southern California last year.

The downpour that set in shortly afterward spoiled all further chance of record breaking for the afternoon. Opposed by a formidable array of sprinters, Murchison, a representative of the Newark A. C. Sped to brilliant triumph in the 100 and 200 meter dashes, showing the flashing form that enabled him to gain the national A. A. U. sprinting crown recently at Chicago. Murchison won both events after stirring duels with L. A. Clarke, of Baltimore, who finished second by a few yards in each race.

Harry F. V. Danish, Danish sprinting champion, made his American competitive debut in these events, but apparently not yet "settled" his "sea legs," the raspy negro was eliminated in the first heat of the 100 meter event and could do no better than fourth and last in the 200 meter race.

The only other foreign entry, Carl Christensen, Swedish hurdling champion, now competing under the colors of the Newark A. C. was eliminated in the first heat of the 110 metre high hurdles, which was captured by C. G. Kregness, of Fresno, former Harvard athlete.

The East carried off honors in two of the three match relay races with the West, all of which developed keen competition despite the fact that they were run in a steady downpour. The East won the 400 and 1,600 metre races while the West captured the 800 metre event.

An outstanding performance was the sensational victory of Ray Watson over Allan Heitrich, former Penn State star in the 800 metre run and the triumph of W. Ascher, of Chicago, in the 400 metre event, in which he caused an upset by defeating J. W. Driscoll of Boston, by eight yards.

PANCHO VILLA CAPTURES SCRAP

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight boxing champion, defeated Bud Taylor, of Terra Haute, Indiana with a fast 10 round bout at Hawthorne race track here this afternoon, being given the newspaper decision over his opponent.
Villa entered the ring at 109 3/4 and Taylor at 115 pounds.
Rain started to fall as the men climbed through the ropes at 8:45 o'clock making the canvas slippery and effective work by the fighters difficult.

Taylor used his superior height and reached to good advantage in trying to hold Villa off. The first two rounds were slow, each man waiting for the other to lead. The third round up a bit and in the fourth Villa came out of his spell and fought Taylor all over the ring, using a left hook to the stomach for his most effective punches.

Taylor came back strong in the fifth but the next three rounds were slower. Cilla getting in the most effective licks in the ninth Villa met Taylor in the center of the ring and standing toe to toe, outdistanced him throughout the frame. The tenth round slowed down and the fighters were taking it easy at the bell.

HAROLD LEVER WINS CONTEST

(By The Associated Press)

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—Harold B. Lever, of New York City, won the special invitation race scheduled at 100 metres at the Canadian national exhibition athletic meet this afternoon and was clocked at 10 2-5 seconds, with A. C. Washington, Chicago, second, and E. J. Higgins, Detroit, third.

Lever, at first, was credited with having equalled the world's record for 100 metres established by Charlie Paddock, of California, but when the track was re-measured it was found that the starting post had been moved three yards ahead.

Lever's time today is regarded as remarkably good considering the heavy track.

JACK DEMPSEY HOLDS STRICTLY TO TRAINING

(By The Associated Press)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey's hobbies in his training camp are not so many or varied. The champion most of the time attends strictly to the business of getting himself into shape. But when he does "let go," he plays cards with his sparring partners or favored visitors, romps around the place like a school kid, plays with the many dogs he owns, or puts in his spare time attempting to train some new-comer to his menagerie.

At Great Falls, Mont., where Dempsey conditioned himself for his Shelby match with Tommy Gibbons, a wolf cub was the recipient of most of the title holder's attention. At his present training camp he is attempting to win the affection of a leopard cub that was recently sent him. His collection of dogs ranges from toy breeds to German police dogs. The canines are scattered all about the country. Many of them are in Dempsey's Los Angeles home, some are at Salt Lake City, and others on a Utah ranch the champion owns. His manager, Jack Kearns, also finds kennel space in his Oakland, Calif., home for several of Dempsey's dogs.

Dempsey loves music. He carries a portable phonograph with him wherever he goes and puts it to constant use. On one of his trips to New York this year he arrived at his hotel without a hand bag, but with a phonograph in his hand. The champion's music tastes run to "blues" and jazz numbers.

SERIES RE PLAYED

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 8.—Doubt as to a post season series in the South Atlantic Association was removed tonight, when Felix Hay, manager, president of the local club, following a series of telephone conversations with President Leiby, of the Macon club, and with President Walsh, announced that a series would be played, three games in Charlotte, followed by three at Macon and the seventh, if that is necessary, at a place to be agreed upon.

NEW AMERICAN RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—There was a new American record hung out at Belmont Park Friday when Jake Byers' imported three-year-old filly, Dot, raced a mile and a sixteenth in 1:41 1-5. Back of this swift running filly, and thoroughly beaten came Henry Waterson's Brainstorm, the Quincey Stable's All Over and the Ranocosa Stable's Mad Hatter.

Dot took the track at the rise of the barrier and setting a smiling pace throughout, was winner by a length and a half at the end.
The fractions of the running tell of how Dot established the record. She ran her first quarter in 22 4-5 seconds, the half in 45 2-5; the five furlongs in 57 4-5, the six furlongs in 1:10 and the mile in 1:35 1-5 and the mile and a sixteenth in 1:42 1-5, although there were some watches that made her time 1:41 4-5.

The winner was ridden by J. Callahan.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN CALIF.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Sept. 8.—The forest fire which has been raging in the San Roque canyon lost Santa Barbara today and tonight was raging along a front several miles in length and within one mile of the city limits. Ranchers in Mission canyon were driven from their homes early this evening and considerable property loss seems certain.

Three members of the crew fighting the fire in the San Roque canyon lost their lives in the flames. It was feared at federal headquarters tonight. The three men were fighting the fire this morning when they were trapped by onsets of fire. When last seen they were in a section which a few minutes later became surrounded. The territory in which they are believed to have been surrounded was burned over.

FRENCH SEIZE 51 CARS OF GASOLINE IN RUER DUESSELDORF, Sept. 7.—The German newspapers report the seizure by the French of 51 tank cars of gasoline belonging to the German-American Petroleum Company, whose value is estimated at 1,000,000,000 marks.

The city of Duesseldorf has refused to pay the French 175,000 francs weekly as has been asked by General Degoutte, commander of the occupation forces, with the proviso that the city would be immune from seizures of money. City authorities consider that compliance would violate passive resistance and would amount to the same thing as a bribe.

WALLPAPER MUSEUM OPENED (By The Associated Press.) CASSEL, Germany, Sept. 8.—Wallpapers and wallcoverings of all nations and of all periods are shown in the new wallpaper museum recently opened here.

French wallpaper of the period immediately following the Napoleonic era is of especial interest and attracts much attention. Terror made its way into the French wall decorations to an amazing degree. Paper of that period is more bizarre than many of the modern expressionistic wall papers, and shows amazing combinations of colors. There is an extensive display of American wallpaper from early colonial days down to the present, showing both the hand-made and machine-made products.

PLAYS WAITING HAND SOFIA, Sept. 8.—When asked by foreign correspondents what Bulgaria's attitude is, Minister of War Zankoff yesterday broke the silence, stating that the government awaits events and does not intend to interfere in the Greco-Italian conflict unless vital interests of Bulgaria are involved.

HIS HOLIDAY LEAMINGTON, Eng., Sept. 8.—"Cheerio, I am off for my holiday," was the last message written by Dr. Samuel Craven Wilkinson, 32, before he killed himself, taking gas.

Italy Accepts Terms of League

ROME, Sept. 8.—Italy accepts the terms of the council of ambassadors and agrees to evacuate Corfu and adjacent islands when Greece has satisfied all of Italy's demands for reparations.

A semi-official statement says the government will consider its demands satisfied as soon as Greece carries out the demands of the council of ambassadors which are substantially the same as those Italy forwarded to Greece.

The Giornale D'Italia today printed an attack against the relief workers on the island of Corfu, in the form of a despatch from its special correspondent describing in the alleged "miserable conditions" in which he says that Italian forces found the Greek and Armenian refugees upon the beginning of the occupation. The relief workers who protested against the Italian bombardment and consequent death of several refugees would have "been better employed," he says, "in providing more efficaciously" for their charges.

The article declares the Italians are providing both the islanders and refugees with food, and are planning barracks for the "homeless" refugees.

On Monday evening the Councils for the Girl's Industrial Club and the Business Girls Club will have a supper and will later meet with Miss Daniel to talk over plans for the fall and winter. The girls have gathered many ideas from the summer conference at Lake Junaluska and are planning with their leader an interesting as well as a constructive program. Miss Daniel, the new secretary who has recently come to Danville, Y. W. C. A., has had a large experience with both industrial and business girls. She is outlining a program that cannot, but appeal to many girls and the outlook for a busy year is most encouraging.

A short course of millinery is planned by the Y. W. C. A. to teach the thrifty girls and women of Danville to make their fall hats. The class begins September 17th and ends October 31st. There will be two lessons a week so that much can be accomplished in a short while. It will be necessary to register at once for this short term class.

There will be the usual Fall classes in Millinery, dressmaking, home nursing, English, French, Christmas Gift Class, and a class in citizenship. Registrations for the classes will open October 1st. Folders will shortly be sent out outlining the classes for the fall and winter.

DOG AND CAT RESCUE LONGTON, Eng., Sept. 7.—For heroism in rescuing a dog and a cat from the bottom of a disused pit, Police Constable Pegg has been presented with the Animal Life-Saving Medal of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The officer risked his life to rescue the animals.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Zev today won the Lawrence realization at Belmont Park, thereby earning the right to be considered as the American horse to meet Papyrus in the international race next month.

Unity was second and Rialto third. Zev's time for the mile and five furlongs was 2:44 3-5. Unity finished 3 lengths behind Zev, while her stable companion Rialto was five lengths behind. W. J. Salmon's Vigil was fourth and Quincy stable's Pettifogger last.

Unity went to the front and led by two lengths, with Zev second, the first time past the stand. These positions were maintained until the last turn where Zev began to close up. He soon got on even terms with Unity and from then on gradually increased his lead to three lengths at the wire.

A high wind blowing against the runners in the stretch prevented fast time. Zev was a heavy favorite throughout. He gained $24,410 for his owner by this victory, while Unity drew down $2,085.

What the opponent to be chosen for the English derby winner Papyrus in the $100,000 match race to take place October 20, will not be named until after the national trial sweepstakes on September 15, the general belief is that Zev has already established his claim as the champion American three-year-old of the year.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

The first meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. W. C. A. will be held on Saturday afternoon, September fifteenth. Because of the number of members who are still out of town and because of the heat and humidity it was deemed wise to postpone the meeting from the eighth, the usual time, until the fifteenth of September.

A number of girls from the Girls Industrial Club are spending the week-end out at Camp Ozia. The girls are eager to enjoy the lovely fall days at camp. Miss Agatha Daniel, the new Industrial Secretary, and Mrs. Estelle Hipchiff, the General Secretary, are chaperoning the girls.

On Monday evening the Councils for the Girl's Industrial Club and the Business Girls Club will have a supper and will later meet with Miss Daniel to talk over plans for the fall and winter. The girls have gathered many ideas from the summer conference at Lake Junaluska and are planning with their leader an interesting as well as a constructive program. Miss Daniel, the new secretary who has recently come to Danville, Y. W. C. A., has had a large experience with both industrial and business girls. She is outlining a program that cannot, but appeal to many girls and the outlook for a busy year is most encouraging.

A short course of millinery is planned by the Y. W. C. A. to teach the thrifty girls and women of Danville to make their fall hats. The class begins September 17th and ends October 31st. There will be two lessons a week so that much can be accomplished in a short while. It will be necessary to register at once for this short term class.

There will be the usual Fall classes in Millinery, dressmaking, home nursing, English, French, Christmas Gift Class, and a class in citizenship. Registrations for the classes will open October 1st. Folders will shortly be sent out outlining the classes for the fall and winter.

DOG AND CAT RESCUE LONGTON, Eng., Sept. 7.—For heroism in rescuing a dog and a cat from the bottom of a disused pit, Police Constable Pegg has been presented with the Animal Life-Saving Medal of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The officer risked his life to rescue the animals.

FOUR CONVICTS ESCAPE PRISON

(By The Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Prison officials, police and deputy sheriffs who are scouring the country around Columbus in search of the four convicts, one serving a life term for murder, who effected one of the most sensational escapes in years from the state penitentiary here today after beating C. S. Arthur, a guard, tonight were without any definite clue as to the whereabouts of the convict.

Guard Arthur was tonight reported in a serious condition by attending physicians. The four men after seizing Arthur's gun, beat him over the head with it and rendered him unconscious, delaying the sound of the alarm several minutes and aiding in the convicts' get away.

The four men were working in
